The Doctor's Office, LLC Launches Electronic Medical Records in 8 Metro Locations

ATLANTA, GA, August 11, 2005 – Recognizing both patient and operational advantages of creating a paperless office environment at its multi-site family practice, The Doctor's Office, LLC is launching Easy EMR™, SRS Software, Inc.'s document-based electronic medical record (EMR) solution. The system will be implemented across eight practice facilities located in the Southern Crescent of Metro Atlanta, Georgia.

“Providing high quality care and exceptional levels of patient satisfaction are important things The Doctors Office is known for within our community,” explains Dr. Jeffery Curtis, CEO. “We chose SRS because it would generate a positive impact for our patients while providing greater convenience for our physicians and staff. Having information on demand across all of our locations allows us to make faster, more informed decisions for patients and their care team. The EMR also enables us to be better stewards of the earth's resources by significantly reducing the amount of paper we consume.”

The new system creates a digital patient chart, including, doctor notes, medication refills and lab results. The Doctor's Office health care professionals can securely access records both in the office and remotely. If a patient visits another office location, their complete file is available. The EMR also interfaces with existing practice management systems, diagnostic equipment and transcription services, creating a seamless transition for both patients and providers.

About The Doctor's Office, LLC
